LIKE AN ACORN THAT WILL BECOME A TREE, YOU ARE EXACTLY WHERE YOU NEED TO BE.

GROW!
STRETCH!
BRANCH OUT!
FIND YOUR PLACE IN THE SUN

AN OAK TREE IS AN ACORN
THAT KEPT GROWING.
A HERO IS A PERSON
THAT KEEPS TRYING.

YOU'RE NEVER TOO SMALL TO TAKE A BIG LEAP!

EVERY FOREST BEGINS WITH ONE SEED.
EVERY DREAM BEGINS WITH ONE STEP.
